

The Names of the States.

New Hampshire gets its name from Hampshire, England. Massachusetts is derived from an Indian name, first given to the bay, signifying "near the great hills." Rhode Island has an obscure origin, the "Island of Rhodes," the "Island of Roads" and a Dutch origin, "Red Island," were mentioned, the first seeming to have the best historical support. Connecticut is an Indian name, signifying "land on a long tidal-river." Virginia, the Carolinas, and Georgia have a royal origin. Maine was named from the fact that it was supposed to contain the "mayne portion" of New England. Vermont has no especial question, except that it is claimed to have first been an alias—New Connecticut, alias Vermont. Kentucky popularly signifies either a "dark and bloody ground," or "a bloody river," but its origin signifies "the head of a river," or "the long river." Tennessee comes from its river, the name being derived from the name of an Indian village on the river—"Tanasee." Ohio is named after an Indian name, signifying "something great," with an accent of admiration. Indiana comes from the name of an early land company. Illinois from the Indian—the name of a tribe. Michigan is claimed to mean "lake country;" it probably came from the name of the lake, "Great Lake," which bore this name before the land adjacent was named. Louisiana is from the French. Arkansas and Missouri are Indian, the former being doubtful; the latter is claimed to mean its original "muddy water, which describes the river. Iowa is also Indian, with doubtful meaning. Texas is popularly supposed to be Indian, but may be Spanish. Florida is Spanish, "a flowery land." Oregon has a conjectural origin. It is probably Indian, but a Spanish origin is claimed. California came from a Spanish romance of 1510. Nevada takes its name from the mountains, who get theirs from a resemblance to the Nevadas of South America. Minnesota is Indian, "sky-tinted water." Nebraska is variously rendered "shallow water" and "flat country." Kansas is from an Indian root, Kaw, corrupted by the French. Mississippi is "great water," or "whole river." Alabama is Indian, the name of a fortress and a tribe, signifying, as is claimed, "here we rest."

A City of Lament Light.

From the Keokuk Constitution.

The city of Aurora, Ill., forty miles west of Chicago, affords a striking spectacle of the revolution in lighting cities by the electric tower plan. At night the city is bathed in a flood of lambent light, and her citizens are in a state of delighted enthusiasm over the splendid practical results achieved. The system consists of six electrical towers, made of iron rods and net work, each 150 feet high. These are crowned with electric lamps of 2,000 candle power each, or equal to 125 gas jets.

The cost complete for each tower and apparatus is about $1,000. One electric tower lamp, fed by soft coal at $3 per ton gives a 2,000 candle light at 2 1/2 cents per hour—a ratio of 2 1/2 to 50 compared to a corresponding use of gas-light. The people of Aurora are universally jubilant over the result of the adoption of the new system and express the most earnest and complete satisfaction with the brush tower plan in all its bearings and aspects.

Celery boiled in milk and eaten with the milk served as a beverage is said to be a cure for rheumatism, gout, and a specific in cases of small-pox. Nervous people find comfort in celery.

Mrs. Scoville, the sister of Guiteau the assassin, thinks he has been drugged since he has been confined in jail, as the only explanation of the great change that has come over him of late.

The Cincinnati grain trade has during the past year become better defined and organized than ever before, and in token of this advance a grain men's banquet will be given during the holidays.

Dr. Graham is living at Louisville, at the age of ninety-eight. He hunted and camped out with the celebrated Daniel Boone. Thirty years ago he was considered the best rifle shot in the world.

The present run of coal from Pittsburg will amount to 7,000,000 bushels, two-thirds of which is for the southern markets. A large amount of Kanawha coal is also coming for the Cincinnati market.

Two desperadoes, named Patton and Malloy, were completely riddled with bullets near Leadville, Col.
